

Los Angeles

A Japanese spa, a huge vintage expo, plus special deals for Lucky readers. By Marlien Rentmeester

Lucky on the loose:

magnolia boulevard

This Valley neighborhood offers delightfully affordable vintage clothing and antiques, along with some of the best cupcakes in L.A.

AGE OF INNOCENCE

11054 Magnolia Blvd.,
818-980-0462

There's no lack of super-wearable, on-trend clothing at this crammed-to-the-rafters space. Choose from floor-grazing, party-ready gowns and delicate lace-trimmed blouses. Prices hover around $30.

PRACTICAL PROPS

11100 Magnolia Blvd.,
818-980-3198

An incredible assortment of new and vintage lamps resides at this unsung destination. We found sanely priced midcentury chrome chandeliers, Spanish sconces, and Mission fixtures.

CARLY JEAN

3319 W. Magnolia Blvd., 818-237-9981
This airy, light-filled stop seamlessly blends up-to-the-minute tunics by emerging labels like Lush with an excellent selection of vintage clothes.

RENAISSANCE

3317 W. Magnolia Blvd., 818-567-0935
At this quaint store loaded down with chic and inexpensive knickknacks, we found beautiful turquoise bowls and sculptural marble busts.

IT'S A WRAP

3315 W. Magnolia Blvd., 818-563-5764
The fashionable castoffs here come from neighboring movie studios, so expect to find never-worn, current-season clothing. We spied pretty print dresses by Prada, Chanel, and Diane von Furstenberg.

SWIFT

3212 W. Magnolia Blvd., 818-558-1289
Hipsters pack this outlet for the small but spot-on trove of retro tops, ankle boots, and wide leather belts at budget-conscious prices.
